

Implementing the GBV, terrorism and transnational organised crime provisions of Article 7:

Tools for effective export risk assessment

Please join us for an expert discussion on how to apply key aspects of ATT Article 7 within the arms export risk assessment process, thereby enabling governments to make well-informed decisions. Presentations will focus on how to assess gender-based violence (GBV) risks in arms transfer controls and how to apply the terrorism and transnational organised crime provisions. Two new reports will provide the backdrop to these discussions:

- The Arms Trade Treaty's gender-based violence risk assessment: A questionnaire for information sources; Verity Coyle; Stimson Center 2021
- Arms exports, terror and crime: Reducing risk under the Arms Trade Treaty; Jillian Rafferty, Elizabeth Kirkham and Roy Isbister; Saferworld 2021

Consideration will also be given to the real-world contexts that inform and shape States' responses under the ATT to the problems of GBV, terrorism and transnational organised crime.

Chair: André Mittmann, Policy, State Secretariat for Economic Affairs (SECO), Switzerland

Panellists: Emma Tobin, Department of Foreign Affairs, Ireland
Verity Coyle, Stimson Center
Anna Crowe, Harvard International Human Rights Clinic
Stephen Singo Mwachofi, Security Research Information Centre
Grisselle Rodríguez, Permanent Mission of Panama to the UN, Geneva
Jillian Rafferty, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom
Roy Isbister, Saferworld

CLICK HERE TO JOIN

An Roinn Gnóthaí Eachtracha
Department of Foreign Affairs

Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft
Confédération suisse
Confederazione Svizzera
Confederaziun svizra

Swiss Confederation

MISIÓN PERMANENTE
DE PANAMÁ ANTE LA ONU
Y OTROS ORGANISMOS
INTERNACIONALES